BIG

IN A LOT OF

by Amber Alexander

When first arriving on one of Holmes' campuses, one might assume it is just like every other community college. However, a closer look will convince anyone that there is more to Holmes than meets the eye. Only when one meets the students, faculty and staff that comprise Holmes Community College can they begin to understand what an exceptional institution we have become.

The faculty of Holmes strive to provide more than just a classroom experience by serving as sponsors for our many clubs and organizations. They go out of their way to assure that everyone can find their niche.

We have many academic and vocational/technical organizations including the Math and Combined Sciences Club, VICA, Cosmetology Club, Phi Beta Lambda, Cyber MACS and Delta Epsilon Chi.

Holmes also has clubs to develop leadership skills such as the student recruitment team Ambassadors, the Student Govern-

For those who like to perform, Holmes has a concert choir, Coachmen, and The Holmes Connection!; these choral groups have entertained crowds at Disney World, aboard cruise ships, ✪

We also have the Creative Arts Club, Delta Psi Omega, the Holme-Towne Players, a jazz band, and the Holmes Marching Band that includes the Dazzlers, Color Guard, and a feature twirler. Other instrumental ensembles at Holmes include the Jazz Band, the Steel Drum Band✶ and the Percussion ensemble.

Spiritual growth and fellowship can be enhanced by the Baptist Student Union, which is open to all denominations.

If one has journalistic ambitions "the Growl," the student newspaper, "Horizons," the college yearbook, or "Reflections," the college's literary magazine, provides a creative outlet. At Holmes there is a place for everyone to belong.

"Getting involved in the clubs and activities at Holmes has introduced me to many of the friends that I made this year," said Tessa Taylor, who is a member of the Dazzlers, a Bulldog Belle, and a freshman representative in SGA.

For those who are athletically inclined we have a strong program which includes football, baseball, golf, men's and women's basketball, tennis, track, and a cross country team that has gone to the nationals every year since its inception. The popular game of soccer was also added to Holmes' athletic program this year.

Intramural sports are also very popular at Holmes. Coach Alexander Tsema provides a myriad of intramural opportunities that anyone can take part in. A sand volleyball court that is open to all students can also be found on our campus.

A few outstanding attractions that can be found at Holmes include a Career Center that offers a lot of transfer information, internet access, and personality inventory tests to help in career decisions. Holmes is also the home to two observatories, something no other community college in the state can boast. ➤

Above. Ridgeland Campus student Jenny Biliu makes use of the lab equipment in the new Science Building at that branch of Holmes.

According to Gene Richardson, the director of admissions and records, Holmes is "the only school in the state that has had an increase in enrollment for the last five years, and it looks like this will be our sixth." Holmes had a 33 percent increase from the years 1992-1996 and the numbers just continue to grow.

Richardson said that these numbers are "reflection of our quality of instruction, scholarship opportunities, and our low cost."

The number of students isn't the only thing that is growing and changing at Holmes; the school itself has improved and added many exciting new attractions. Leading the way into the 21st Century, Holmes recently completed extensive computer labs in Science and Technology Buildings. Computers have made the library's card catalog practically obsolete. Also housed in the library is a distance learning center that allows you to take courses via the Community College Net ➤ work (CCN); future courses may include upper-level and graduate classes.

Another new attraction to Holmes is a state of the art Fitness and Wellness Center on the Goodman Campus.

Sam Sample, a freshman from Ebenezer said, "Having a fitness center at Holmes gives everyone an opportunity to lift weights and get in shape without having to leave the campus."

One exciting addition has been the Engineering-Technology Program. This is a program that gives the option of going to work after two years or transferring to a university to obtain a bachelor's degree. There are many areas of concentration included in this program, including architectural engineering technology, construction engineering technology, drafting and design engineering technology, industrial engineering technology, mechanical engineering technology, and technology teacher education. Kenny Steed, a construction engineering major from French Camp, is excited about this program.

"I know that I won't have a problem finding a job after I leave school," he said.

Miss Holmes Community College Pageant

Miss Mississippi 1996 Kari Litton provides entertainment

by Amber Alexander

The Miss Holmes Community College Pageant is an important event at Holmes each year. It is on this night that the judges decide who will represent the college in the Miss Mississippi Pageant, which is not an easy task.

The pageant's coordinators Jan Reid-Bunch, Audra Kimble and Robert Harris strive to make the event an enjoyable for the audience and special for the contestants.

Entertainment was provided by Miss Mississippi 1996 Kari

Litton, Miss Holmes Community College 1996 Amanda Grantham, and The Holmes Connection!. Earlier in the day Litton spoke to many HCC students about her platform issue, breast cancer. Doug Holland of Columbus served as the master of ceremonies.

The competition consisted of an interview, evening wear, swimsuit and talent segments. Talents included a vocal performance, expressive dance, and a twirling routine.

Sandy Killebrew, a fresh-

Dedication

If you are an alumnus or friend of Holmes Community College and your hand has not been shaken by Wilbur Harpole, you are truly a rare individual. His love for his alma mater is evident from the first time you meet him. It was this love for the college that motivated him to take on the role as executive director of the Holmes Community College Alumni Association in 1989 after retiring from Mississippi Chemical Corporation.

And he has worked tirelessly in this capacity ever since.

A Mathiston native, Harpole came to Holmes after serving in the U.S. Army Air Corps for three years during World War II. While a student at Holmes, he was a member of the football team, the H Club and the International Relations Club. His wife, Grace, attended Holmes at the same time and was named homecoming queen, wittiest girl and typical freshman girl. She was also a member of the choir, Glee Club, Octette, the cheerleaders, and the dance committee.

After Holmes, Harpole attended Delta State University, graduating in 1950. After graduation, he began working for Mississippi Chemical Corporation in Yazoo City. He and Grace made their home in Benton, where they raised two sons, Wilbur Harpole Jr. and Kirk Harpole, both Holmes graduates.

After a distinguished career with Mississippi Chemical, Harpole retired and began working for Holmes in an official capacity. Throughout the years, he has generously given of his time and support and has always been one of the section leaders in the chorus of Holmes fans.

Whether it's asking a business or individual for a donation, encouraging a prospective student, cheering on the Bulldogs at a football game, or attending Mississippi Inter-Alumni Association meetings as one of Holmes' representatives, Harpole has always gone above and beyond the call of duty. And he's always done it with a smile and a friendly handshake.

For this devotion to the school and the indefatigable spirit with which he works for the school, both as an alumnus and executive director of the Alumni Association, it is with sincere appreciation that the 1998 Horizons is dedicated to Wilbur Harpole.

years, but the truest measure of the growth of college is not in that of sheer numbers. The increase of programs and services is perhaps the greatest measure of the progress of the college.

The opening of the Attala Educational Center marks a renewal of the ties between Holmes and the Kosciusko area. The facility will be used for allied health programs, computer classes and continuing education. The building can also be reserved for the use of its conference room and other classrooms for meetings and workshops.

HCC has also expanded its program offerings with the addition of the mortuary science program on the Ridgeland Campus.

Holmes' program is one of only three in the state.

Through the Community College Network, students are able to participate in distance learning classes. The CCN is also used for meetings, workshops and lectures.

On the Goodman Campus, students enjoy working out in the Wellness Center, which opened in the fall. The center features treadmills, stationary bicycles and a variety of weight machines. Students can even take a fitness class for a more structured workout.

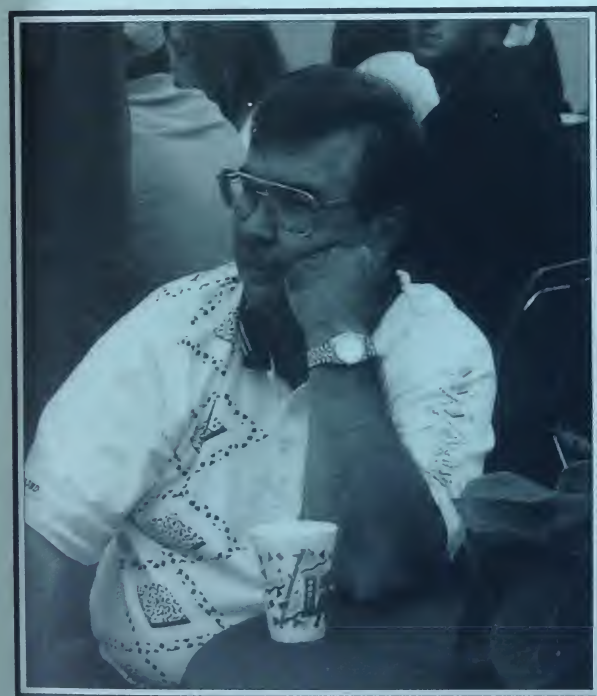

During Christmas Holidays, Carroll Cafeteria was renovated so that a food court type service could be offered. Students can choose from a wide variety of choices, ranging from deli sandwiches, soup and salad bar and fried chicken to the more traditional meals.

Other physical changes to the Goodman Campus include the addition of the greenhouses to augment the ongoing project of beautifying the campus. Another enhancement to the appearance of the campus has been the expansion and restocking of the pond.

With the addition of the soccer team, Holmes continues to expand its athletic offerings. This team is unique in that its members are drawn from the Ridgeland Campus.

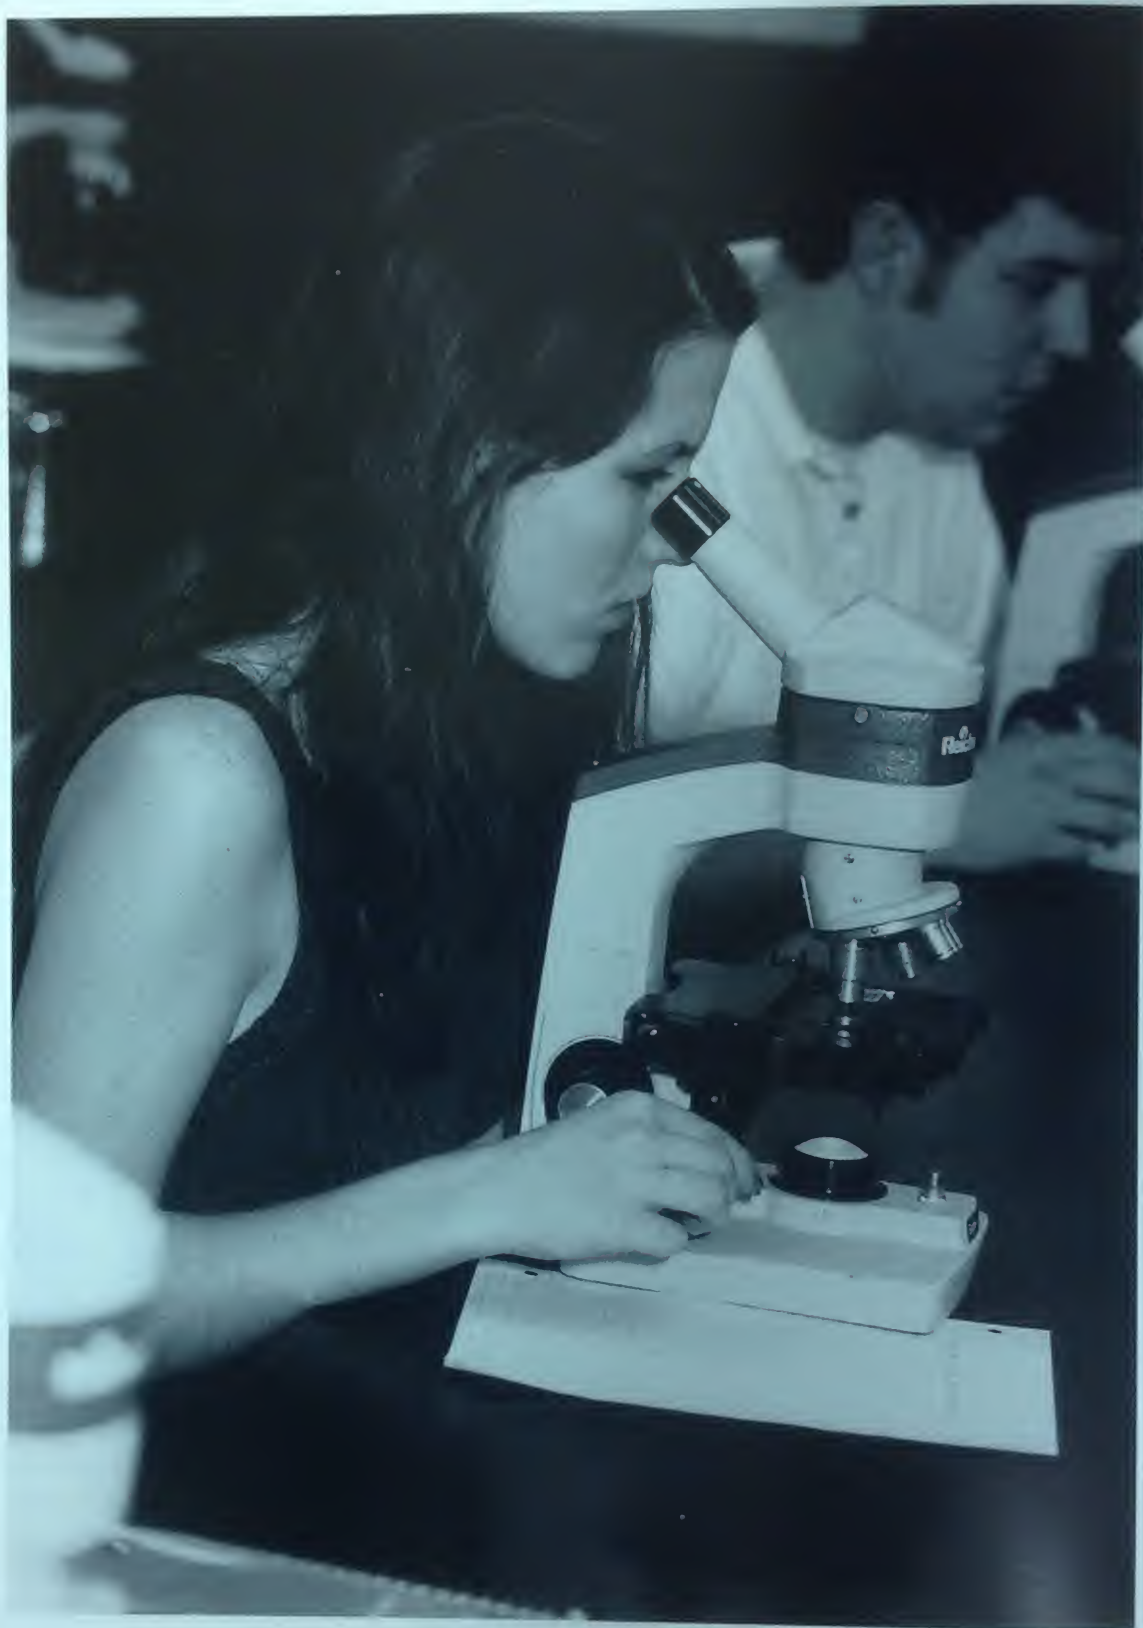

The Fine Arts Department continues to represent Holmes far beyond the stages on campus. Members of the drama group returned for the second year to perform at the Tennessee Williams Festival in Clarksdale. Coachmen represented Mississippi at the National Festival of States in Washington, D.C. The Bulldog Marching Band marched in parades in New Orleans and the surrounding area during Mardi Gras.

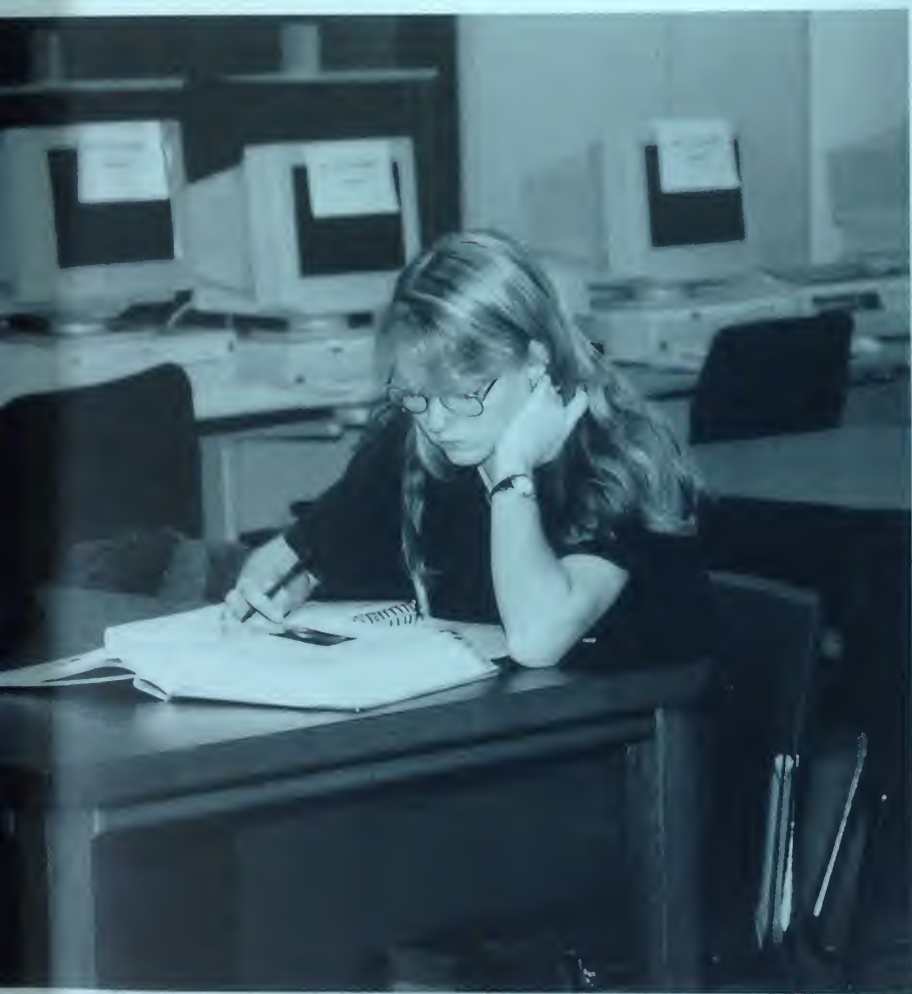

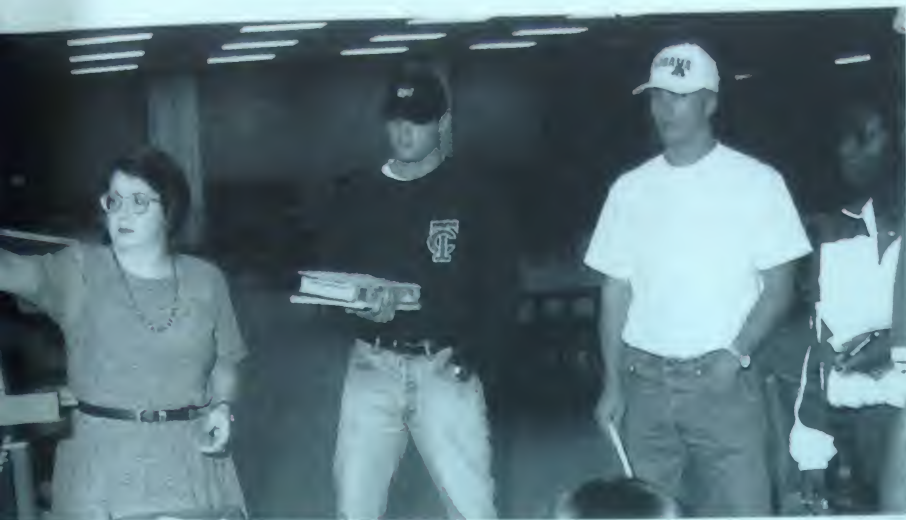

These are but a few of the exciting things going on at Holmes Community College this year that make the school big in a lot of little ways. It is a credit to Morgan's leadership that the college never remains static but continues to reach higher in terms of growth, service and achievement.

College, Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr. leads the school as it continues to grow and further meet the needs of its students and the people living in the communities in the nine counties that make up Holmes' district.

Faculty makes a Difference in a lot of LITTLE Ways

by Julie Newton

The faculty at Holmes is one of the key ingredients that make this college so special. Not only do they carry out their required duties, but they go totally out of their way to help and encourage the students. Anytime a person looks around, faculty can be seen selling cheese, working in concession stands, taking pictures, or just visiting with a student. Sometimes students only think of a faculty member as an authority figure, but actually, the faculty is interested in what is going on in the student's life. They look forward to hearing the latest story about the fire alarm getting pulled.

The faculty has many different reasons that they like working at Holmes. "I am excited and optimistic about the instructional program. Because of a healthy state economy and steady enrollment increases, major improvements have been made in the physical plant. The new science-math building at Ridgeland, the Computer Technology Center at Goodman, and the Attala Educational Center in Kosciusko are wonderful additions. Our salary schedule is now competitive enough to attract Ph.D's. The faculty are attending more professional development activities. We have added more activities for students such as golf, soccer, and women's softball. Our next big challenge is the installation of the technology infrastructure. By mid-point of the spring semester, we should be surrounded by fiber-optic cable, new computers, networks, and Internet connections. It's an exciting time to be a college student at Holmes Community College. Their future looks promising," said Richard Newton, vice president of academics.

"One of the things that I really like about working at HCC is the academic freedom and support to try different methods of teaching," said physics instructor Beta Keramati.

"Holmes is a place where relationships last a lifetime," said Luther Boggan, chairman of the math/science department and math instructor.

"The best part of my work at HCC is the variety in each day. It never gets dull. The students see to that. The only downside to my job is having to deal with the few who don't seem to care about the college or the other students," said Danny Williams, dean of students.

"My favorite thing about working at Holmes is the relaxed and friendly atmosphere," said Patti Koonz, secretary for student support services.

"The feeling of friendship from employees and students make it an enjoyable place to work," said Joanna Spell, secretary in the dean of students' office.

"The thing I like most is the contact with the students. I feel like some days I can make a difference in the students' progress," said Sue Ellen Stubbs, secretary in the vice president of academics' office.

The students also have a lot to say about the faculty. "Julia Williams has really helped me make decisions to get ready for my future," said Tessa Taylor, a freshman from Lexington.

"Dean Newton and Maria Edwards help me a lot. I am always surprised when the faculty come by and offer advice, not only for academics, but anytime I need anything," said Emily Castillo, a sophomore from Honduras.

"My dad (Luther Boggan) has helped me in choosing all my classes," said Adam Boggan, a sophomore from Goodman.

"Julia Williams has been very helpful in everything," said Goldie Chunn, a freshman from Newport.

intervals, triads, and their inversions. Education majors will benefit from Janet Simpson's new Music for Children class.

Another addition is the pre-licensed practical nursing curriculum. This was added to improve the academic foundation of LPN applicants. It has been designed to be flexible enough to provide for individual needs such as preparing for an ACT re-test, reviewing basic skills, or completing some of the required courses for future upgrade to an associate degree nursing degree or a bachelor's of science in nursing degree. Students taking this course can earn four points on the LPN admission scale.

The Vocational/Technical Department has also made some huge changes. The new engineering technology program gives the student the option of earning a terminal two-year degree or transferring to a four-year university offering a related course of study. In this engineering technology program a student can major in architectural engineering technology, construction engineering technology, drafting and design technology, industrial engineering technology, industrial technology, mechanical engineering technology, and technology teacher education.

Another program addition is the new mortuary science technology. This curriculum educates prospective funeral service professionals by providing knowledge in funeral service education and exposing students to career options available within this field.

Through the Community College Network, Holmes offers a geography class. Students at Holmes can learn and interact with a teacher who is miles away via a computer.

By providing all of these new options, HCC offers students a large variety of classes and programs from which to choose. These new programs will enable more students to take advantage of the quality education received at Holmes Community College.

New classes include subjects such as Business Calculus I. This is a study of functions, limits, and continuity; application of the derivative to business and economics; and introductory to integration and its applications to business and economy.

The Fine Arts Department has also been able to extend its services thanks to the addition of a new faculty member, Kathy King. Many more voice and piano classes are now available. A new Fundamentals of Music class provides the student with basic knowledge of notations, scales, keys, rhythm,

Phi Theta Kappa, the Jackson-based international honor society for two-year schools, developed the plan to establish recognition in Mississippi similar to the Academic All-American Team for Two-Year Colleges sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa, USA Today and the American Association of Community Colleges.

Selection is based on information about their scholastic achievement, community involvement, leadership capabilities and college service activities. In order to be considered, the students are also required to provide faculty recommendations and an essay they have written.

These six Holmes students were honored a luncheon in Jackson along with the students selected from the other junior and community colleges in the state.

Six instructors selected to attend Lamplighters Conference

by Sundra Williams

The Lamplighters Project is a group of experienced teachers selected to attend a conference that promotes learning and helps them to improve their teaching techniques. This is the seventh year that Holmes Community College has participated in this project. Each selectee is recommended by the Academic Deans at each campus and is approved by the president, Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr.

The criteria for recommendation are; (1) they must be an experienced instructor and have been at Holmes Community College for at least five years; and (2) this is their first time to be selected to attend.

DOROTHY M. WORLEY

Dorothy Worley is a nursing instructor from the Grenada Center. She teaches adult/child nursing I and II, personal and community health, and nursing management.

She received an Associate Arts Degree from Holmes

Junior College, a Bachelor of Science in nursing from the University of Mississippi Medical Center, and a Masters of Science in nursing from the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

Worley considers Duck Hill, Mississippi as her hometown. In her free time, she enjoys crocheting, painting, and watching TV.

MYRA L. SCHRADER

Myra Schrader is a mathematics instructor from the Ridgeland Campus. She teaches calculus, beginning algebra, and college algebra.

She received a Master of Science from the University of Tennessee and a Bachelor of Arts from Mississippi State University.

Schrader considers Clinton as her hometown. In her free time, she enjoys tennis, reading and travel.

BILLIE E. POOLE

Billie Poole is a sociology and marriage and family instructor from the Goodman

Campus. She teaches sociology and marriage and family.

She received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Mississippi and two master's degrees from Delta State University.

Poole considers Goodman as her hometown. In her free time, she enjoys reading and travel.

Facility makes a BIG Difference in a lot of LITTLE Ways

by Amber Alexander

This year Homes Community College fulfilled a commitment to return to Attala County. In 1992, Holmes left its facility in Kosciusko when the industry that owned the building needed to expand in the community. They vowed then to return when a building was provided. Now we have a new center located next to the Montfort Jones Hospital; this medical facility's Board of Trustees gave the land for the building. The county provided the new structure while HCC was responsible for learning equipment and personnel.

According to John Burrell, Assistant Vocational Director and Director of JTPA, the new Attala Educational Center will be used to "educate Kosciusko and the surrounding communities primarily in practical nursing and other health-related fields." Four licensed practical nursing instructors teach at the center; Debbie Oakes, Sherri Comfort, Wanda Polland, and Christie Blair filled these positions. Arthur Derrick has the job of supportive aide. Sherri Cheek serves as the basic skills instructor at the center.

Practical nursing classes aren't the only ones offered at this center. Other health-related classes such as nursing assistant, Emergency Medical Technician, First Aid, and CPR are offered. Even GED classes can be taken. Evening courses are also offered in certain classes.

Computers are also an important focus at the center; they are used by students of health-related and business fields alike. According to Cheek, some "computer courses are sponsored by various businesses in the surrounding area." Also, as the demand for more classes grows, whether they are health-related, academic, or continuing education, this center will provide them.

There are about three classrooms that are located in this building; here you can also find a large computer lab and a clinical lab that can each be divided to make two rooms. A conference room, two office complexes, an entrance area, and a break area are also features of the center.

The Attala Educational Center is not only used by students. One important purpose of the facility is to serve businesses in the Kosciusko and surrounding area. The conference room and other available rooms in the building can be reserved for meetings, workshops and other activities.

The Attala Educational Center is just another example of the overall growth of Holmes Community College.

Adams, Brady receive H.E.A.D.W.A.E. honors

Betty Sue Adams

Higher Education Appreciation Day Working for Academic Excellence, also known as H.E.A.D.W.A.E., was organized to recognize outstanding faculty members and students from each college.

This year's honorees from Holmes Community College are Betty Sue Adams, a math instructor on the Ridgeland Campus, and Suzanne Brady, a sophomore on the Goodman Campus.

Holmes' representatives are selected by a committee which is appointed by Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr., president of Holmes. Teachers are chosen on the basis of outstanding merit. The student is selected according to his or her grade point average and the difficulty of courses he or she is taking.

Betty Sue Adams

Holmes graduate Betty Sue Adams has taught math at Holmes for the past 12 years. In addition to her classroom duties, she devotes many hours to the school as adviser of the Alpha Lambda Sigma chapter of Phi Theta Kappa. PTK is the international scholastic honorary for two-year colleges. She has received a number of honors and awards in recognition for her efforts in association with this organization.

Also in recognition of her excellence in the classroom, Adams has been selected to participate in the Lamplighter Conference and the NISOD Conference in the past.

A Weir native, she holds a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from Mississippi State University and taught junior high school math with Kosciusko City Schools before joining Holmes' faculty.

She and her husband Joe, who serves as vice president, director of the Ridgeland Campus, make their home in Madison. They have two children, Jeff and Susan.

Suzanne Brady

Kosciusko native Suzanne Brady is a sophomore nursing major on the Goodman Campus.

The daughter of James and Carol Brady, she maintains a 4.0 grade point average and serves the Kappa Alpha chapter of PTK as chapter historian. A Massey scholar, she is also a member of the Math and Combined Sciences Club.

A Kosciusko High School graduate, she plans to become a nurse anesthetist.

Holmes sends two teams to brain game

By Hope Alexander

Holmes' Goodman Campus scholars bowl team won first place in the Ken Wooten Scholars Bowl, an academic competition between teams comprised of some of the smartest community college students across the state. This year's members are Jason Adams, Dan Osborne, Elizabeth Schur, and Michael Dew on the Goodman Campus team. Their coach is Kimberly Stoker. The Ridgeland Campus team members include Doug Doster, Brian Harris, Rishi Dutt and Chase Humphrey. Their coaches are Rus Bishop and John Switzer.

This competition takes place each February. The members of the Scholars Bowl have spent many hours preparing for the competition. They have practiced on a weekly basis throughout the year.

First time member Jason Adams said, "I really enjoy the competitive atmosphere. It sharpens your particular area of intelligence. Also Mrs. Stoker is a really nice person."

Several schools participate in the competition. First place winners receive a $3,200.00 scholarship. Second place winners receive a $2,200.00 scholarship and third place winners receive a $1,200.00 scholarship.

Stoker is also excited about the competition. "I'm looking for this year's competition to be pretty good. We've put many hours of preparation into it. I think we have a good chance of winning. The team would like to extend their gratitude to Dr. Morgan for his moral support," said Stoker. Michael Dew adds, "The Scholars Bowl is a healthy competition that fosters academic excellence. The competition drives at making academic endeavors noticeable and worthwhile."

DORM LIFE

by Crystal Cartwright

Living in a dorm can be very fun at times; but, it can also be very distressing. Many students on the Holmes campus are dorm students. When you live in a dorm, you have to live with someone you have never lived with before. You have to learn to make sacrifices and compromises. Dorm life is a very exciting part of the college experience. Most students meet new people and make new friends in the dorm.

Many students find it hard to study in the dorm because of the noise. When asked what he liked or disliked about living in the dorm, Nicolas Flores, a freshman on the Goodman Campus, said, "I like living in Cook Dorm because it is the newest and nicest dorm. The only thing I dislike about living in a dorm is the loud noise when I try to sleep or study."

One sacrifice you have to make when you live in a dorm is sleep. You lose a lot of sleep when you live in a dorm. One reason for this loss of sleep is because of the fire alarm. It gets pulled at least three times a semester. You have to get up out of bed and go outside until the dorm supervisor has checked all the rooms.

You also learn to share when you live in a dorm. You do not have your own room or bathroom.

When asked what she liked about living in the dorm, Ginny McGlothlin, a sophomore on the Goodman Campus, said, "I like living in Yazoo Dorm because it is quite nice only having to share a bathroom with three other girls."

While dorm life has its disadvantages, it also has its advantages. Dorm life is a fun experience everyone will always remember.

by Sundra Williams

Holmes Community College is best known for its variety of students. One of the best things about HCC is that you do not have to live on campus to be a student. In fact, two of Holmes' campuses don't have dorms. Many of our students commute from the surrounding communities.

Pickens, Lexington,

Canton, Jackson, Kosciusko, Winona, and Sallis are among the many towns from which students come to the Goodman Campus every day in order to get the benefits of a good education. The Ridgeland Campus has students from Ridgeland, Madison, Yazoo City, Flora and Canton. The Grenada Center students are drawn from Grenada, Duck Hill, Cascilla, Coffeeville and others.

In between class, many commuters hang out in the library, in an open classroom in order to catch up or get ahead on work, or they go to their cars. On the Goodman Campus, some go to the Canteen for lunch, others go to Rick's or Campus Mart, and others bring their lunches from home. In Ridgeland and Grenada, there is wide variety of restaurants to choose from.

Many commuters are involved in organizations such as the Student Government Association, Phi Theta Kappa, which is the honor society for two-year colleges, Horizons, and the Growl. Many are also involved with the clubs that are associated with their particular major, such as the Cosmetology Club or Math and Combined Sciences. Getting involved is not always easy for commuters because many of them have households to run and work full-time jobs.

Both commuting and living in a dorm have advantages and disadvantages. Being a commuter is good, because you do not have a curfew. On the other hand, sometimes commuting is inconvenient because it is sometimes hard to get to study sessions when you have to work and take care of a family.

HOMECOMING

by Julie Newton

Every year, homecoming weeks consists of many of the same events. This year, everyone seems to agree, was the best.

Emily Castillo, a sophomore from Honduras and secretary of Student Government Association says, "This was the best homecoming week ever. There was constantly things going on. The dance was awesome. The banner-and -display-making-contests really helped get everyone involved."

Each day of homecoming week had a dress-up theme and at the pep-rally on Thursday, the cheerleaders announced the winners of each spirit day. Monday was P.J. Day, and the winners were Carrie Hobson, a sophomore from Lexington, and Lance Jones, a freshman from Madison.

Tuesday was Camo Day and the winners were Misty Johnson, a freshman from Winona, and Stewart and Stephen Cannon, sophomores and twins from Lexington.

Wednesday was Nerd Day and the winners were Shannon Childress, a sophomore from Flora, Kellye Garner, a sophomore from Kosciusko, Jennifer Parkinson, a freshman from Spirit week was full of exciting events this year, with Each day having a different theme. Monday was pajama day and everyone wore their coolest pajamas. Some even had interesting houseshoes to top of their outfit. "This was my favorite day because I could just roll out of bed and go to class," said Mandy West.

Tuesday was camouflage day. The guys who love to hunt liked this day. Most of them had done just that before coming to class.

Wednesday was nerd day. Thursday was "Woodstock" day, when everyone enjoyed dressing as hippies.

Friday was homecoming T-shirt day. Over half of the student body bought a T-shirt. No one wanted to feel left out.

All of the activities of the week were designed to build up the spirit of homecoming day, which was filled with activities for both alumni and students throughout the day.

At 9:00 a.m., the men's and women's cross country teams lined up for a meet with Hinds and Itawamba. Holmes' newest sport, soccer, which is usually played on the Ridgeland Campus, began their first game in Goodman at 10:00 a.m. The Bulldogs beat the Wolves of Co-Lin, 5-1. An alumni softball game also kicked off at 10:00 a.m.

A reception for alumni was held at Holmes House from 10:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m., with an alumni association meeting held afterward.

A picnic in the grove got underway at 11:00 a.m. Live entertainment was provided by the jazz band and other performing groups. Phi Theta Kappa sponsored a dunking booth and the cheerleaders provided the opportunity for children to have their photographs made with Bully.

After the picnic, The Holmes Connection! performed in McDaniel Auditorium. A pep rally followed soon after, getting the crowd fired up to support the Bulldogs as they took to the field in Ras Branch Stadium to go up against Jones' Bobcats.

"The stage for this year's competition was very pretty as were the contestants" a statement made by Tessa Taylor and Jackie Hearn, students who attended the beauty review.

With the theme "Making Memories," the beauty review featured 33 contestants. From this 33, a top 10 was selected.

These 10 returned to the stage and modeled again for the judges, who then chose four beauties and the most beautiful.

The Mistress of Ceremonies for the program was Shelley Boggan, who was selected most beautiful at the 1996 beauty review.

The entertainment for the evening was Walter Shepherd. He sang a variety of songs, from Broadway to country.

Kim Stoker, who serves as director of the beauty review said, "The competition consisted of an interview and an evening gown competition."

Crowned most beautiful was Fantasy Hood from Grenada. "I was shocked and honored when I was chosen most beautiful. It was definitely a memory-making moment," said Hood.

Another contestant, Ginny McGlothlin, said, "The beauty review was a lot of fun. There were so many pretty girls and the winners deserved it."

Making Big Hits in a Lot of Little Ways

At Holmes Community College the Fine Arts Department stands in a class all by its self. Music, drama and poetry have become a great part in each of our lives on a everyday basis. This year at Holmes, the arts department is once again taking our breath away, and like never before they are making us proud to be a part of the Holmes family.

The Marching Band begins each year even before registration, with a band camp, where they learn the half-time show they perform on the field at football games throughout the season.

The choir begins each season in the same fashion, by taking August, September, and a portion of October to practice in order to make the many voices become one bell. This year, the Concert Choir made its debut at homecoming in October by singing the National Anthem. Another performing group that made its debut at homecoming and that was the Holmes Connection.

In November, Holme-Towne Players and Delta Psi Omega produced "A Night of Tennessee Williams," which featured four of Williams' one-act plays, including "This Property is Condemned," "The Lady of Larkspur Lotion," "Hello from Bertha," and "27 Wagons Full of Cotton."

Melanie Sprayberry, a music major at Holmes, gave a solo piano recital in November. She performed music by Mozart, Scriabin, Chopin, Shaiman and McLean, and Rachaminoff.

There were two Christmas concerts given this holiday season; the first was by the Holmes Community College Concert Choir and the second included the various musical talent at Holmes.

In January, a number of outstanding music students from Holmes will be sent to perform with other outstanding music students from around the state in the All-State Choir.

A Barbershop Quartet will perform in February. For Valentine's Day, The Holmes Connection! performs Singing Telegrams for those who wish to give their sweetheart something special and unforgettable. February is also the month of the State Wide Choral Festival, which celebrated its fiftieth anniversary this year. In order to celebrate the occasion, there will be a concert featuring all of the choirs attending and a symphony. The choirs and the symphony will be performing Beethoven's Mass in C and Foure's Requiem.

The Holmes Connection! is excited about March because they have been selected to perform on a cruiseline in the Bahamas. We are proud of Coachmen for being selected to represent the State of Mississippi in Washington, D.C. for the Festival of the States. The performing year will in April with a Pops Concert featuring all three of Holmes' vocal groups and a Concert Band performance.

Making a Big Difference in a Lot of Little Ways

There are many clubs at Holmes Community College that perform community service. These clubs include Phi Theta Kappa, Student Government Association, Math and Combined Sciences, Phi Beta Lambda, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, Baptist Student Union, and the Cosmetology Club. PTK has contributed in numerous ways, including working with Habitat for Humanity, collecting toys and clothes.

Right Phi Beta Lambda members and staff members from Holmes and Goodman-Pickens Elementary School, (l-r) Mildred Lewis, the school's drug coordinator; Jenny Bailey, Holmes business and office technology instructor; PBL members Otharetha Mabry, Tabetha Ellington, Willie Alice Kern, Yolanda Martin, Beverly Gibson, Denise Brown Dees, LaKeisha Horton, Patricia Nash and Brandie Boyd; Lynda Irby, Holmes business and office technology instructor; Katrina Myricks, Holmes Equity Coordinator; and James Cain, Goodman-Pickens Elementary School principal; kick off Red Ribbon Week. The Holmes group presented the elementary school with materials to be used during the week which used the theme "On Guard Shielding our Communities Against Drugs," to help the students understand the perils of using drugs.

SGA, headed by adviser Lindy McCain, had a community haunted house. Many students and members of the community came to join in the fun.

Emily Castillo, a member of SGA, said, "I really enjoyed participating in this event. We had a lot of fun."

The MACS club helped with the Sidewalk Cafe. The BSU sang at a nursing home.

Stephen Cannon, president of BSU, said, "The fundraiser is really coming along. I hope we meet our goal."

All of these clubs at HCC have contributed in many ways.

Making a Big Impression in a Lot of Little Ways

Although every club and organization found at Holmes Community College represents the institution in some form, there are a few in particular that represent the college more directly. Several of these organizations are responsible for the actual recruiting of students to Holmes. Others provide a voice for the student body to the administration. The Ambassadors, Bulldog Belles, VICA, SGA, "Horizons," and the "Growl" all do their part to illustrate what life at Holmes is all about.

One of the main functions of the Ambassadors is to recruit prospective students to Holmes; they accomplish this by visiting high schools around the area and speaking about classes, tuition, activities on campus, and other important aspects of campus life. The Ambassadors are also responsible for giving all on-campus tours and spend many hours writing postcards inviting high schools and vocational/technical centers to visit Holmes.

Ambassadors not only recruit students, but also help those who have chosen to attend Holmes. They are responsible for making incoming freshmen and transfer students comfortable with their new surroundings during registration week by conducting orientation and helping students learn their way around. Ambassadors also represent the student body of Holmes to the alumni and other guests by serving at many banquets held at

Stephen Cannon, an Ambassador on the Goodman Campus, became an Ambassador because, "I enjoy helping people. As an Ambassador I get opportunities to show people around campus, answer questions, and just be a friend to someone who is about to make many big decisions concerning their education and career."

The Bulldog Belles are another kind of recruiting team. They promote the football program to high school recruits who visit the campus. Most football recruits visit during a Holmes football game to watch the team in action, so the Bulldog Belles are there to assist the coaches in informing these players about Holmes. The Belles also act as tour guides for these prospective Holmes' players.

"We entertain the high school football players and answer their questions while the coaches are away," says Bulldog Belle Julie Newton. They also make signs to welcome the high schools and snacks to make them feel more at ease.

Representing the vocational/technical division of Holmes, the VICA club also does a lot of recruiting. They travel to surrounding schools and speak about our very popular and growing vocational department. VICA also represents Holmes Community College every year in national competition.

Above. Representing several organizations at Holmes, club members, (l-r) Lisa Sudduth, Brooke Burrough, Adam Boggan, Lynne Sims, and Brian Wells; help serve at the Sports Hall of Fame banquet.

The Student Government Association is made of individuals who have been elected for their office by the student body. These representatives are the voice of the students to the administration and faculty of Holmes. SGA is also responsible for most of the activities that occur on campus at Holmes. They keep campus life from becoming monotonous by hosting dances, competitions, and even slip-n-slides!

Last but not least we have the written representations of Holmes Community College: the campus yearbook, "Horizons," and the newspaper, the "Growl." Both "Horizons" and the "Growl" are written by students of Holmes. This gives the student the opportunity to portray their opinion, and also help students, alumni, and others understand what is happening at Holmes Community College.

"The events and current news that the 'Growl' covers do involve Holmes students. We try to include students' opinions and cover stories that the student body is interested in," said "Growl" Editor Katie Branch. Both the yearbook and newspaper are also very important recruiting tools used by the college.

Each of the above clubs and organizations has played a very significant role in making Holmes as successful as it has become. Although each does it in their own way, these groups all represent the heart of Holmes, its students.

Holmes football continues to improve each season. The mighty Bulldogs of the 1997 season have represented Holmes well by posting a record of six wins and four losses for the 1997 season. This season the team has been greatly supported by loyal fans and Holmes students.

"Our 1997 campaign debut was similar to 1996, in that after three weeks of play, we were 1-2. A lot of things began to happen which were similar to a script that occurred in 1996; by the end of five weeks, we were 3-2 and 2-0 in north division play. However, we dropped our next two games against Jones and Mississippi Delta, the latter being the game that hurt the most because of division standing. After this our team faced two strong division foes on the road and came out with wins over Itawamba and Northwest. This put us in a situation to have a chance with a 4-1 division record and again challenge the north division championship with East Mississippi left to play at home. The East Mississippi game was a hard fought victory that left us with a 5-1 division record, but the earlier loss to Mississippi Delta cost us the division championship. The season gave us a fourth winning season in a row with a 6-4 record and a 14-4 record over the past three years," said head football coach Hugh Shurden.

Bulldog football not only consists of coaches and player, but the managers and trainers play a key role. The managers get anything the players may need from water to a uniform part. The trainers take care of injuries. Both trainers and managers put in long hours and should be commended for their hard work. The coaches and players did a great job this year. There is only one way to describe Holmes football-Big in a lot of little ways.

In his first year as coach of the Holmes men's basketball team, Todd Kimble faced a season with only two sophomores and a very competitive roster of opponents. But what the team lacked in experience, they made up for with tenacity.

"This was a hard working season. It's fun being on the team because we get to do different things," said Anthony Powell.

By facing the difficult opponents and tough losses and enjoying the victories together, the individual players pulled together and formed a bond off the court that improves teamwork on the court.

"It feels good to be part of a team that has such close friendships. We have a lot of young players coming in. They're making the transition from high school to college and it's not easy," said Marcel Walls.

Of course, practice and the experience of facing tough opponents and playing the intense games help make the freshmen make that transition.

"My best moment on the court is being recognized as a Bulldog. I have pride in being a role model. One thing I don't like about being on the team is practice," said Jason Davis.

The team must also traverse the state to play teams like Northwest, Northeast, Co-Lin and Itawamba.

"I like playing basketball, but I don't like the long trips. This season has been a hard season for all of us. Being on the team can sometimes take away from your school work because you're concentrating so hard on basketball," said Dale Edwards.

Although this year's team was young and inexperienced when they started the season, they faced many challenging opponents and grew both as individuals players and as a team. And next year, when these guys are sophomores, they should reap the benefits of these experiences.

"Even though this season hasn't been that good, this year's team is hard working and dedicated. Hopefully next year will be better," said Coach Todd Kimble.

Lady Bulldogs show spirit on court

By Shenel Adams

As the year begins, the expectations of the team is very high. Many students at Holmes don't realize how much pressure an athlete feels when she walks on to the court. Each player wants to perform to the best of her ability and have a great game.

"I hope this year we do better. I still haven't found the power hitter I need. We'll have a lot of speed and we've covered a lot of free throws, but we still need more confidence in the school and the team.

Teamwork is what we need to keep the Lady Bulldogs winning," said Lucinda Britton.

With the personnel in place from last year's group and the players that have signed to join the squad this seasons, The Lady Bulldogs are hoping to improve on an already good record.

"I was disappointed we didn't win more games. I was pleased with the effort the girls put out. We had some injuries that hurt us late in the season. We played most of the year with about 10 players, which is credit to the girls on the team," said Coach Larry Therrell.

Every team wants to have a perfect season and walk away with a championship trophy. But sometimes a less than stellar season can provide valuable experience and help the team to improve. Perhaps the lessons learned this year will provide the basis for a championship season next year.

While the Lady Bulldogs didn't win as many games as they would have liked, they put hard work, effort and perseverance into the game. The only thing to hope for is a better season next year.

Baseball integral part of spring sports

By Charles Overstreet

The 1998 Holmes Community College baseball team got underway with their first opponent February 16, 1998 against Southwest Community College. The team consists of 10 sophomores and 13 freshmen. They expect this year's toughest opponent to be Mississippi Delta. Head Coach Quinby Morgan said, "I also hope for Holmes Community College's baseball team to make it to the Region 23 Tournament.

When asked if any changes had been made between last season and this season, Coach Kenny Dupont replied, "The team is smaller and we moved some freshmen infielders to the outfield and we also played a more aggressive game."

Dupont also stated that the 1997 team's strong abilities were evident by the fact that 5 sophomores made it to the All-Star team even though the team had a record of 29 wins and 21 losses.

When asked the pros and cons about being on the baseball team, Chris Pope replied, "I like being around the players and friends you make being on the team. I dislike losing a lot of my free time and hate losing after many hours of hard work."

Also when asked about individual accomplishments, Pope said "I work hard to get better and also to help the team as much as I can."

Camaraderie off field leads to teamwork on field for softball team

By Champa Winters

The 1998 softball team has Coach Dan Edwards filled with enthusiasm. One of the reasons for this excitement is star hitter Melissa Singletary.

"Not only is she a good batter but an excellent outfielder with speed and good judgment," said Edwards.

With seven or eight starting freshmen, there are a number of additions to the team. One addition is new assistant coach Terry Fancher. A former baseball player at Mississippi State University and Mississippi College, he has a lot of experience in hardball as well as softball.

"Working with the team has been a lot of fun and working with Coach Edwards has been a learning experience," said Fancher.

Although there were only

three sophomores on the team, both students and coaches are enthusiastic about the squad.

"We are a team of friends. Everyone gets along and works well together. We have good hitters as well as a good defense," said freshman Tamara McDonald.

Melissa McPhail of Grenada was also a plus for the team. Francesca Spell and Mandy Rogers, both All-Stars in high school, joined the team after completing basketball season.

Survenda Head, a freshman from Weir, said that playing here is very different from high school and that she loves the way everyone sticks by each other. But when it's time to get on the field, it's time for business.

The toughest opponent they had was Jones Junior College, a team they faced in both the regular season and in the State/Region 23 Tournament in New Albany in March.

Track, cross country programs flourish

By Bob Broomfield

Cross Country

Holmes started its third cross country season with its first meet at Choctaw Trails in Jackson. Everyone was kind of nervous even the two returnees Shane Smith and Daniel Johnson. All the other runners, including myself, were new to the cross country team at Holmes.

For most of the season on the men's side, we did not have a full team. It wasn't until the Holmes Invitational, on October 11, till we had a full squad. It could not have been a better time either. It was less than a month till our big race of the season, and we placed second only behind Hinds on our own course.

Unfortunately for the women, they did not have a complete team all season. They did however have a very memorable and record breaking season. Angie McDonald was the fastest female on the team. She broke every record by all the previous females on Holmes cross country teams.

The best moment in competition, for most of the runners, came toward the end of the season. It was when Stephen Cannon pulled ahead of Jason Gardner of Itawamba to capture the district title.

For Jamie McQuirter, her fondest memory of cross country competition was when she and another teammate tied for forth place.

For myself, it was when I placed fourth at Region XXIII and was named to all-district and division team.

The best moment outside of competition for just about every runner was the trip to Nationals. Much like last year, the National Junior College Athletic Association's National Meet was held in Hagerstown, Md. Some of the team members' most memorable moments came from this trip. Moments like the trip to the Nation's Capitol, Washington, D.C., and looking for the red dot on the long 22 hour ride to Maryland.

Coach Elton Wright said this team was big in a lot of little ways. "For instance, we didn't win a lot of races this year, but no one gave up. Everyone persevered through the odds that we faced. Keep up the good work."

Track

The first track meet was in March. I had asked Coach Alex Tsema what he hopes the team can accomplish this year. First of all, most of the team consists of freshmen this year. Coach hopes that the team can gain a fundamental knowledge of track.

He said, "It really doesn't matter who you are, whether you are a sprinter, distance runner, jumper or whatever. If we all achieve the same goal, we will be able to beat other community colleges in Mississippi."

1997 Golf Team makes appearance at national tournament

by Sundra Williams

When many people think of golf, they think of the sport that takes up the most time on the television and means absolutely nothing. When you talk to someone who actually plays the game, you get an answer that is totally opposite of what everyone else would say. Surprisingly, in the last few years, golf has grown in popularity in all age groups including college students.

At Holmes Community College, that fact is growing more true by the year, thanks to Coach Gary Sheppard. The past three years have brought many changes to the Bulldog golfers and their reputation. The 1995 season ended with Holmes being last in the division. In 1996, Holmes had moved one step up and ended the season second to last. In 1997, the golf team second in the state.

To add to the excitement, two of our golfers, Steve Chambliss and Kent McLeod, competed in the nationals in Vass, North Carolina. Steve ranked 21st in the nation.

Returning for the 1998 season was nationally ranked Steve Chambliss along with teammates Clay Neely and Chris Herring, who were all sophomores this year. There were two newcomers who were a great asset to the team,

Hunter Vaughn from Ackerman and Blake Lewis from Pearl.

What makes our team so special is that they do not have a practice field on campus. Each player practices on area golf courses and courses at home.

Coach Sheppard thinks that this year's toughest competition is going to be between Meridian Community College, Northwest Community College and Hinds Community College. "I expect great things this season. I believe the new guys are going to be a wonderful addition," says Coach Sheppard.

Steve Chambliss agrees with Coach Sheppard, "Last year our team had a great, successful season. We finished second in the state and had two individuals to compete in Vass, North Carolina for the nationals. I think with these new players and the team we had last year, we will have a winning season."

Tennis team makes mark on the court

by Jane Claire Hawkins

The 1997-98 Holmes Community College Tennis team is tops! With players such as Lucy Hall, Elizabeth Schur, and Glen Beard, who could go wrong?

Of the many talents and abilities of this team, one of the strongest is Lucy Hall's backhand. This stroke was instrumental in leading the team last season.

According to head coach Tony Cook, "Lucy Hall was ranked as #3 in the state and returned this year to play as a sophomore."

Other than the loss of the sophomores on the team, not many changes have been made since last season.

When asked about the things liked and disliked about being on the team, Elizabeth Schur replied, "I like being a part of a team and I love the sport, and also, I like the leadership and respect for the team from Coach Cook. I dislike people bickering over small problems and missing out on a good afternoon nap."

Holmes adds soccer to roster of Bulldog sports

This fall, Holmes Community College added another sport to its wide variety of athletic offerings. And the addition of this game to Holmes' roster of sporting events is particularly noteworthy because it is the first Bulldog team to be comprised of players from one of our satellite campuses. The sport? Soccer. The campus? Ridgeland.

Nationwide, the sport has been gaining popularity over the past few years with players from little league age through high school, so it is only natural that these athletes want continue their participation in college. The Madison/Ridgeland area in particular is rich with soccer talent. Coach Mike Curley was able to reach into this well of ability and pull together a roster of some of the best players in the area.

With an "always play to win" philosophy, these athletes got the sport off to a solid start, finishing with a 5-8-1 record.

Although the soccer program is new at Holmes, the coach chosen to charter the sport is certainly well-experienced, with 21 years of teaching the game of soccer. The Holmes program is not the first one he has inaugurated.

In 1982, he started the Madison-Ridgeland High School program for boys and started the one for girls in 1988. In 1990, he fielded the first soccer team at Madison Central High School, where he remains as coach.

Some of the honors he has received as a soccer coach include being selected to coach the Mississippi North

High School All Star soccer teams in 1985, 1992, and 1996. In 1987 he was named Division II Coach of the Year. He was chosen as the assistant coach for the olympic development program in 1990.

Cheerleaders support Bulldogs in variety of ways

By Sundra Williams

The Holmes Community College cheerleaders are back in action for another exciting season. Under the direction of Audra Kimble, they began preparing for another unforgettable year during the summer. The captains this year were Selena Hossley, Christy Collins and Jay Taylor. Kawaski Kirkwood served as mascot.

"The one thing that makes this year's squad most special and unique," said Kimble, "is that this is the first squad, since I have been sponsor, that is fully co-ed. Other squads were either mostly girls and one or two guys or girls and no guys at all."

The squad has tried to keep the spirit alive by using various themes for the pep rallies. The themes ranged from the traditional themes, such as, "Country-Western" and "Beach Party" to the more pop culture themes of today such as "Men In Black" and "Welcome To The Jungle." For homecoming this year, they chose Woodstock as the theme.

They helped to welcome the basketball season in with "Midnight Madness" in order to introduce the Bulldogs.

No one really knows the effort these girls and guys put out to keep the spirit alive. "By just hearing their cheers, we knew we had someone on our side and it helped in building our confidence," said football player Bruce Thompson.

Everybody can be star athlete in intramurals

by Ta'Kishaya Fleming

For the athletically inclined or those who just have fun trying, intramural sports are a healthy and exciting activity to be involved in. Intramural sports are played throughout the school year.

There are four different intramural sports that are played: football, basketball, volleyball, and soccer.

There is a range from two to five teams that participate in each intramural sport.

According to Coach Alex Tsema, "Each intramural sport usually consist of five to 12 students that play at least three games before a champion can be determined."

The champion is usually determined by how many games a team has won. The names of the teams are usually determined by the students on the team.

Many students enjoy playing intramural sports while others just enjoy watching. Kizzie Eskridge said, "Students enjoy playing intramural sports because they get a chance to have fun away from their studies and win a t-shirt for their achievement."

"Many students just enjoy the fun," said Tammala Phillips and Meridith Ellis.

Many students enjoy watching intramural sports because most of the time their friends are participating. Vanessa Glover said, "I enjoys watching the games because I can laugh at my friends and at the same time cheer them on."

Intramural sports are just one of the many activities campus life that are a lot of fun. The more you have fun, the more memories you make to carry with you.

Top. Kelly Burroughs, a sophomore on the Goodman Campus, goes up for a layup.

Lots of hard work nets graduates big rewards

Graduation exercises for the class of 1997 were held May 9 in the Frank B. Branch Coliseum on the Goodman Campus. Robert C. Khayat gave the commencement address. This 69th commencement began with a reception for Chancellor Khayat in the new Computer Technology Center. Director of Admissions and Records Gene Richardson said that this is one of the biggest and smoothest graduations ever.

Mariquita Evans, graduate and nursing major from Ackerman, said that graduation was a exciting experience for her. She said that it was great to finally get recognition for all the hard work she had done and have all of her family there to see her.

Chancellor Khayat began his career at the University of Mississippi in 1969 as Professor of Law. He has also served as Associate Dean of the Law

School, Vice Chancellor for University Affairs, and Executive Director of the Sesquicentennial Celebration prior to becoming Chancellor at Ole Miss in July, 1995. An active in professional and civic affairs, Dr. Khayat has served as President of the Chamber of Commerce and

IN A LOT OF

LITTLE ways

By Shawna Leonard

This year at Holmes Sidewalk Cafe. has been an exciting year. A lot of things have changed. Overall, this year has been big in a lot of little ways.

Classes began in August and everyone has been very busy ever since. We have enjoyed events such as football, basketball and baseball games throughout the year. The Student Government Association sponsored a haunted house in October. Phi Theta Kappa hosted

There were also dances, spades tournaments, pool tournaments and other activities throughout the year.

Although we all loved this events, that's not all that has made our year at Holmes unforgettable.

Second semester began with a new cafeteria. There are now a lot more food choices.

Above. Dan Osborne, a sophomore on the Goodman Campus, proves that although Holmes has many extracurricular activities, your studies should still be your primary concern.

"I like the remodeled cafeteria and the food is better," said freshman Laura Collier.

Sophomore Kelly Burroughs said, "HCC has been a fun experience to me."

Burroughs is also a cheerleader. This is the first year that the squad has been totally balanced between men and women and this has allowed the cheerleaders to do a lot more stunts.

The basketball team brought their season in with a crowd at Midnight Madness, which was a late night pep rally held to introduce the team to Bulldog fans.

"This was a good idea because it brought a lot of the student body out and in the stands," said sophomore Julie Newton.

Holmes Community College has been a great experience to everyone who attended this past year. Holmes has been "Big in a Lot of Little Ways."

Notes from the Yearbook Staff

"Yearbook is my most relaxing class. I enjoy writing and photography, therefore it is also my easiest class. I get a feeling of great pride when I see people looking in a yearbook at the end of the year and smiling. It lets me know that they appreciate all of the hard work that went into it."

—Sundra Williams

"My favorite thing about being at Holmes Community College is.....being able to be in various activities to meet new people and at the same time have fun. This past year and a half at Holmes Community College has made me learn to be independent and has also helped me to overcome some of my shyness. Not all of it but some of it."

—Ta'Kishaya Fleming

"My favorite thing about Holmes is that everyone knows each other. When someone needs help about a class then there is always someone to talk to about it."

—Hope Alexander

"Being on the yearbook staff this year has been a lot of fun, yet a lot of hard work. I really enjoyed working with everyone on the staff. Being on yearbook staff is a great way to meet new people and make new friends."

—Crystal Cartwright

"I have really enjoyed working on the yearbook staff these past two years. It has been a fun and educational experience."

—Shawna Leonard

Above. Staff member Crystal Cartwright helps wrap Christmas gifts donated by the yearbook staff to Phi Theta Kappa's Salvation Army Angel Tree gift drive.

"The reason that I chose to be on the yearbook staff is that I think I can be more involved with Holmes. Holmes so far has been a great school for me. I know a lot of people and that is what makes Holmes great."

—Robert Broomfield

"The reason why I like Holmes is because it's closer to my hometown. I have learned a lot of things at this school. I have also experienced a lot of new things. I have also made new friends that are very close to me. One thing I would like to say is that I will be graduating from Holmes in May of 1998."

—Kontessa S. Davis

"I have really enjoyed working with the yearbook staff this year. I believe that our yearbook is truly the best one published by a community college anywhere around. I hope that each time someone flips through its pages it brings back memories of the good times they had at HCC."

—Amber Alexander

"I decided to come to Holmes because it's smaller than major universities, therefore it's easier to get around campus and just about everyone knows everyone else."

—Jane Claire Hawkins

"I decided to come to Holmes because the staff has a good reputation of helping you when you need it."

—Charles Overstreet

"I have really enjoyed being on the yearbook staff these past two years. It is a fun class that has enabled me to meet a lot of new people and get to know some of the faculty a lot better. Out of all these things, I must admit that my favorite part was Mrs. Blanton's cheesecake."

—Julie Newton

"There are several factors I like about Holmes Community College. The atmosphere and people. There aren't many places to go, but the students at Holmes find things to do and have fun. The yearbook is also another good thing at Holmes. It allows you to get a better view of all the students at Holmes. The yearbook is a very good thing at Holmes because of the impact it has on the student."

—Shenel Adams

Editor's Letter

A M B E R A L E X A N D E R

The past two years that I have attended Holmes have really flown by for me. It seems as if it were yesterday when I was an entering freshman, and now I am preparing to graduate and move on to another institution. I know that I will always cherish the time I've spent here at HCC. It saddens me to know that soon it will all be ending, but I feel that now I am ready to go on to that university that I wasn't prepared for right after high school. HCC will always be special to me for many reasons; making friends, learning leadership skills, and being the editor of Horizons are among them.

Working with the Horizons staff has been such a pleasure. Everyone learned very quickly that yearbook class is not an "easy 'A'." I want to thank Sundra, Shawna, Julie, and Crystal for their commitment and dedication (and also for being able to find any excuse to have a party!). I also want to thank Jane Claire, Bubba, Robert, Kontessa, Champa, Hope, Ta'Keshaya, and Shenel for their hard work second semester. Everyone did their very best on every story and layout each week. It has really paid off!

It is not a difficult task to enjoy making a yearbook when you have an extremely creative and generous sponsor. Mrs. Blanton, thank you so much for your patience, especially on those days when it took me three hours to finish a layout because I couldn't decide what pictures to use! I also want to thank you for listening to my ideas even though you knew what would be best in the first place. You have taught me so many things over the past two years and I respect you so much for what you do.

I must also thank my mother, Linda Alexander. You have given me so much inspiration since I have been at Holmes. If it weren't for you I probably would not have tried out for editor in the first place! You have always had an unconditional faith in me, and because of that I can believe in myself. I don't know what I'll do next year when I can't come to your office every day; be prepared for an outrageous phone bill! I love you so much!

Last but not least, I want to thank all of the Holmes Community College students. You are what made the 1997-1998 school year unique from any other. I hope that you will enjoy reading this yearbook as much as I enjoyed making it.

The Horizons staff and I thought that the theme of the 1997-1998 yearbook should be one that reflected all of the growth that Holmes Community College has undertaken over the past year. Growth that has shown itself in students, buildings, sports, technology, and learning opportunities. Holmes is not only about change, though, it is also about the traditions that have remained throughout the years. Traditions such as a quality education, caring instructors, and a family-like atmosphere. That is why we chose the theme "Big in a Lot of Little Ways." From the outside it may appear to be like any other community college, but after taking a closer look, one can see that Holmes is actually a very extraordinary institution.

COLOPHON

Holmes Community College's 1998 Horizons, Volume 69, consists of 240 pages on a 9 X 12 format. The book contains 80# paper and a Smyth binding. There are 24 color pages.

The 1,400 copies of the book were printed at Taylor Publishing Co., Inc., in Dallas, Texas. The sales representative was Ben Allen. The in-plant representatives were Melody Lundquist and Toni Wood.

The cover consists of a gold linen 28 base with an embossed gold foil and black design. The endsheet is black with a gold foil stamp. The cover and endsheets were designed by Amber Alexander, Caron Blanton and graphic artist April Ford.

All pages were composed on a Power Macintosh 6100/66 using PageMaker 6.0. Aldus Freehand 4.0 was used for the cover, endsheet and division page designs. WordPerfect 3.0 was used for writing and editing copy for the publication. Pages were submitted to the plant on a SyQuest disk for output directly to a negative.

Fonts used include Bern Bold for headlines, Bern Compressed Ultra for subheads, Seville Roman for body copy and captions, and Jefferson Script for pull quotes.

The spot color used throughout the book was gold #80.

Portrait photographs were taken by Mississippi School Pictures, Inc., Jackson, Miss.

The viewpoints represented in this yearbook are solely of the staff and in no way intend to reflect college policy.

Manufactured on Premises!

Randy E. Coghlan, G.G., Goldsmith

Above. Cheerleaders Sam Sample (left) and Jennifer Parkinson get the crowd at the homecoming pep rally fired up by offering a six-foot spirit stick filled with candy to the group that screams the loudest for the Bulldogs. The Dazzlers! learned that straining your vocal chords can have sweet rewards.
